Curriculum Sample

A Grade Ahead will challenge your students and help them achieve their goals!

Beginning in June 2021, our 6th graders will be participating in A Grade Ahead Online, a blended learning program that integrates both traditional and electronic methods to teach students.

Our students begin the week learning a lesson and answering practice questions with paper and pencil in our monthly lesson booklets. Then they go online to a website to complete three days of online activities to master the topic of the week.

Here's how it works:

Monthly Blended Learning Lesson Booklet

Students receive a lesson booklet each month that is broken in to four weeks. Every week, students are introduced to a new topic with explanations and examples followed by student practice questions.

At the end of this document, you will find a full sample of one week's lesson and practice problems from A Grade Ahead's 4th Grade English curriculum.

A Grade Ahead Online Activities

After learning the lesson and practicing problems with a traditional approach, students continue learning online through activities at online.agradeahead.com. Every week, students have three days of homework activities to practice vocabulary, grammar, and comprehension.

A Grade Ahead Online offers many benefits to students and parents, including

- Interactive and colorful questions with formats like matching, drag and drop, fill in the blank, multiple choice, and more.
- Automatic grading that saves times for parents and provides immediate feedback for students. They know whether they got a question right or wrong as they are going through the homework, so they can make adjustments if necessary.
- A rationale for every online question that explains the correct answer, so students can learn from their mistakes immediately.
- Student progress reports that are easily accessible without parents needing to upload any data. In fact, a parent has access to raw data from all of his or her student's online work.
- Adaptive learning paths that provide more challenging questions to students who perform well on the first set of activities.

Here is a peek at a few of our online exercises:

Realistic Fiction Review

Realistic fiction is storytelling based on real life but with embellishments. Real people, places, or events can occur within the story, but they are not based on actual history. Many authors write realistic fiction to entertain their readers or to make a point about life. You will find that most fiction is realistic fiction, as it is the most popular form of storytelling. The length of the story doesn't matter, as long as it involves events and characters that could exist. Stories with characters such as talking animals, fairies, and monsters are not examples of realistic fiction.

Questions? Call 866.628.4628, chat at enrichmentathome.com, or email enrichmentathome@agradeahead.com.

Example Question: Which of these plots is an example of realistic fiction?

1. A group of children have been captured by bandits and are forced to live underground until they are rescued.
2. A group of children have been captured by bears and are forced to live in a cave until they are rescued.

Example Answer: Plot #1. Children, bandits, and an underground habitat are all realistic enough to be categorized as realistic fiction; however, bears who take on human qualities and capture children are imaginary and, therefore, do not qualify.

Remember, when reading realistic fiction or any type of passage, do the following:

- ✓ Read slowly and with purpose. Try to understand what you are reading while you are reading it.
- ✓ Keep mental notes of things you might find to be important. It will help you locate answers quickly and more effectively later on.
- ✓ Break down the passage into manageable parts. At the end of each paragraph, quickly ask yourself what it was about.
- ✓ Ask questions. If you are unsure about something, ask your teacher or parent to help clarify.

Note: This month, students will be reading excerpts from The Railway Children, by E. Nesbit. Some of the vocabulary will be covered in exercises, but some might be unfamiliar and require assistance. Students should always be encouraged to use context clues to decipher meanings of unfamiliar words. Not every word is crucial to understanding the overall meaning of a text.

Student Practice

Read the passage. The following passage is a continuing adaptation from The Railway Children by E. Nesbit. (You read 2 previous excerpts online last week.)

The family is settled in their new home. Poorer than they were, the children no longer go to school. With their mother busy writing stories to sell, they spend most of their time at the railroad. They watch and name the trains.

It was by the Green Dragon that the old gentleman travelled. He was a very nice-looking old gentleman, and he looked as if he were nice, too, which is not at all the same thing. He had a fresh-coloured, clean-shaven face and white hair, and he wore rather odd-shaped collars and a top-hat that wasn't exactly the same kind as other people's. Of course the children didn't see all this at first. In fact, the first thing they noticed about the old gentleman was his hand.

It was one morning as they sat on the fence waiting for the Green Dragon, which was three and a quarter minutes late by Peter's Waterbury watch that he had had given him on his last birthday.

"The Green Dragon's going where Father is," said Phyllis; "if it were a really real dragon, we could stop it and ask it to take our love to Father."

"Dragons don't carry people's love," said Peter; "they'd be above it."

"Yes, they do, if you tame them thoroughly first. They fetch and carry like pet spaniels," said Phyllis, "and feed out of your hand. I wonder why Father never writes to us."

"Mother says he's been too busy," said Bobbie; "but he'll write soon, she says."

Questions? Call 866.628.4628, chat at enrichmentathome.com, or email enrichmentathome@agradeahead.com.

"I say," Phyllis suggested, "let's all wave to the Green Dragon as it goes by. If it's a magic dragon, it'll understand and take our love to Father. And if it isn't, three waves aren't much. We shall never miss them."

So when the Green Dragon tore shrieking out of the mouth of its dark lair, which was the tunnel, all three children stood on the railing and waved their pocket-handkerchiefs without stopping to think whether they were clean handkerchiefs or the reverse. They were, as a matter of fact, very much the reverse.

And out of a first-class carriage a hand waved back. A quite clean hand. It held a newspaper. It was the old gentleman's hand.

After this it became the custom for waves to be exchanged between the children and the 9.15.

Answer the questions about the excerpt.

1-2. How did the children discover the old gentleman? Use details from the passage to support your answer.

Students must write in complete sentences.

3. Which of the following best describes what the Green Dragon is?

- A) a green car
- B) an old gentleman
- C) a train
- D) a dragon

4. Support your answer to question 3 with details from the passage.

5. Which of the following best describes the children's handkerchiefs?

- A) clean
- B) filthy
- C) white
- D) crisp

6. Support your answer to question 5 with details from the passage.

C. Grammar

Parts of Speech

Note: A great way to remember all of the parts of speech is to use the acronym, PAPA VINC. This stands for the following:

1. P: Preposition
2. A: Adjective
3. P: Pronoun
4. A: Adverb
5. V: Verb
6. I: Interjection
7. N: Noun
8. C: Conjunction

The parts of speech we will cover this week are nouns, adjectives, and adverbs.

Nouns

Nouns name people, places, things, animals, and ideas. There are different types of nouns.

1. Singular nouns name only one person, place, thing, animal, or idea.

Teaching Tip: For each part of speech that is defined, have the students use one of the example words in a sentence of their own. Be sure they understand the correct way to place the word in a sentence.

Examples: cowboy, theatre, box, thought, tree, kindness, arrival, elephant

2. Plural nouns name more than one person, place, thing, animal, or idea.

Examples: boxes, homes, ideas, troubles, puppies

3. Common nouns name unspecific people, places, things, animals, or ideas. They can be singular or plural.

Examples: desk, house, clouds, monkeys, kindness

4. Proper nouns name specific people, places, things, animals, or ideas. They will be capitalized. They can be singular or plural.

Examples: Mrs. Knott, Philadelphia, James, Golden Retrievers

Adjectives

Adjectives are words that modify nouns. They answer the questions, “What kind?” or “How many?” There are different kinds of adjectives.

1. Common Adjectives answer the questions, “What kind?” or, “How many?”

Examples: big, yellow, thin, amazing, three, beautiful, quick, important, many, few

To modify is to describe something.

Questions? Call 866.628.4628, chat at enrichmentathome.com, or email enrichmentathome@agradeahead.com.

2. Proper Adjectives are capitalized and formed from proper nouns.

Examples: Spanish, American, Indian, Chinese

3. Possessive Adjectives show ownership.

Examples: his, her, its, your, their, my, our

Adverbs

Adverbs are words that modify verbs, adjectives, and other adverbs. They answer the questions “How?” “When?” “Where?” and “How often?” Many times, they will end in “-ly.” There are five types of adverbs.

1. Adverbs of manner tell us how something is done. This is the most common type of adverb.

Examples [Adverbs are underlined, and verbs are bolded.]:

1. They drove carefully around the corner.

How did they drive? “Carefully.”

2. He writes well.

2. Adverbs of time tell us when something was done.

Examples [Adverbs are underlined, and verbs are bolded.]:

1. He can't meet her today.

When can't he meet? “Today.”

2. I never went dancing.

3. Adverbs of frequency tell us for how long or how often something happens.

Examples [Adverbs are underlined, and verbs are bolded.]:

1. We played outside all day.

How long did we play? “All day.”

2. They usually arrive on time.

How often do they arrive? “Usually.”

4. Adverbs of degree tell us how much something is done.

Examples [Adverbs are underlined, and verbs are bolded.]:

1. We like to eat ice cream a lot.

How much do we like it? “A lot.”

2. She likes Fridays very much.

Questions? Call 866.628.4628, chat at enrichmentathome.com, or email enrichmentathome@agradeahead.com.

5. Adverbs of comment state an opinion about an action.

Examples [Adverbs are underlined, and verbs are bolded.]:

1. Fortunately, they found the lost dog.

What is the opinion about the finding? "Fortunately."

2. Consequently, she left the party.

An opinion is a belief or feeling about something.

Note: If you cut the word "adverb" into two parts – "ad" and "verb" – it gives a hint about what they do: adverbs add to verbs.

As previously mentioned, adverbs can modify adjectives and other adverbs.

Adverbs Modifying Adjectives

Examples [The adverbs are underlined, and adjectives are bolded.]:

1. Harry Truman used extremely direct language.

How direct was the language? "Extremely."

2. He became a very popular president.

Adverbs Modifying other Adverbs

Examples [The modifying adverb is underlined, and the adverb being modified is bolded.]:

1. Truman entered politics unusually late in life.

How late did he enter politics? "Unusually."

2. He moved through the political ranks quite quickly.

Answers of Student Practice

A. Word List

Synonyms may vary. Examples are given.

- | | |
|----------------|--------------|
| 1. sympathized | 2. honorable |
| 3. package | 4. undo |
| 5. basket | 6. scream |
| 7. see | 8. doomed |

B. Comprehension

Answers may vary slightly for Q1-2. Check to make sure that the student answers the question generally and then uses examples from the passage for support.

- 1-2. The children discovered the old gentleman by seeing him wave on the train. The passage says that on the day the children waved at the train to send love to their father, they saw a nice hand wave back at them. This was the old gentleman's hand.

3. C

Answers may vary slightly for Q4 and 6.

4. The information before the beginning of the passage states that the children spent most of their time watching and naming the trains, and then the passage begins with the statement that, "It was by the Green Dragon that the old gentleman travelled." The Green Dragon must be the name the children gave to that particular train.
5. B
6. The passage states that the handkerchiefs were "the reverse" of clean, and "reverse" means opposite.

C. Grammar

Sentences will vary. Check to make sure that two vocabulary words and one adverb are used correctly. In the example, vocabulary words are underlined, and the adverb is in italics.

- 1-3. Tammy shrieked loudly with glee upon receiving the parcel she had been expecting all month.

For numbers 4-25, answers will vary.

- | | |
|-------------------|---------------|
| 4. cowboy | 5. boat |

| 14. every day | 15. never |
| 16. Ohio | 17. Alex |
| 18. large | 19. ugly |
| 20. his | 21. her |
| 22. little | 23. a lot |
| 24. unfortunately | 25. obviously |

Paragraphs will vary. Check to make sure that one word from each category was used correctly.

- 26-36. Alex was a Spanish cowboy. Yesterday, he had so many ideas running through his head that he decided to quickly do his chores on the large ranch. He knew that he would never be able to focus on his work otherwise. Unfortunately, when the owner of the ranch saw how little he had done, he was reprimanded, and sent back out to complete the tasks properly.
